LONG TERM FOR BURRIS

Who Was Convicted of Killing His Wife at Pembroke.

CHEANEY, CASE NEXT.

Commonwealth Docket Will Probably Be Finished this Week.

The case of the Commonwealth against John Cheaney, under an indictment charging willful murder, in the killing of Maud Ellis, is set for trial today and will likely be called this morning. Cheaney is accused of shooting and killing the woman near the southern limits of the city on night during Christmas week. An indictment was returned by the grand jury early in March and the case was set for the twentieth day of the term, which is today. Another bill was returned against Cheaney at the same time, charging him with having maliciously shot and wounded Duncan Veach. The indictment for murder will be disposed of first. The trial will probably consume three or four days, as there are a number of witnesses and there will be several speeches. Messrs. John Stites, J. T. Hanberry and Judge C. H. Bush have been appointed to represent the defendant.

Charles Burris, the negro who shot and killed his wife, Carrie Burris, in a restaurant at Pembroke one night last fall, was found guilty of voluntary manslaughter, and his punishment was fixed at twenty-one years in the penitentiary. The case was given to the jury Friday at noon and the verdict was returned at 9:30 Saturday morning. Burris was indicted for murder. He was given the extreme penalty for manslaughter.

Jim Williams and Archie Hampton, both colored, charged with maliciously throwing into a railroad train were given six months each in jail at hard labor. William Jones and Melborne Dunlap, held on a similar charge, were found not guilty. Another indictment against the quartet, charging them with forcibly breaking and entering a railroad car with intent to steal, was dismissed.

Isaac N. Cowan was granted a divorce from his wife, Lou Ann Cowan.

Judge J. I. Landes has been sitting as special judge for two days in the absence of the regular judge who went to Benton, as a witness in the Holland case.

BUNCH OF FINES.

Busy Day In Police Court As Results of Numerous Arrests.

Sunday was another busy day in police circles. Six or eight arrests were made and yesterday morning Judge Brasher assessed fines as follows:

One case drunk, paid $6.00.
One case adultery, $22.50.
Elbert Nolan, jumping on a train, paid, $11.50.

Henry Smith c.c.d. w., pd. $27.50.
Wm. Jones, col. c.c.d.w., $27.50.
Three cases of disorderly conduct were not tried.

Wm. Jones was arrested on a charge of shooting and wounding Nelson Orendorff, on Short 3d street, Sunday. He shot at him with a derringer pistol, the ball merely grazing the skin of his stomach. This charge was dismissed and Jones fined for carrying a concealed deadly weapon.

Of the $95 in fines assessed, $45 was paid and the rest will be satisfied or worked out. This raises the total for this month to $421.

The K. of P. street fair committee has begun making initial arrangements.

POOR PIDE PROHIBITED

Council Ordains That Cows
Must Be Kept Off the Streets.

NO SALOON SCREENS.

Joe Claxton Elected Policeman to Succeed W.
H. Nixon.

The stock law was the first matter taken up at the Council meeting Friday night. Mayor Meacham announced that the election ordered for March 13 had been held, but had resulted unsatisfactorily. Many irregularities were reported and many citizens had voted out of their wards. In the First ward the result had been changed by outside voters and the matter was referred to the Council for settlement. No returns at all had been brought in from the Third ward, which, according to unofficial reports, went against a stock law. He suggested that the Council canvass the returns and settle the question.

Dr. Jackson said the Council should take the matter up, regardless of the election, and pass a stock law. He presented the ordinance passed and later repealed last summer. It prohibits milk cows, as well as other live stock, from running on the streets.

Councilman Clark said there was so much confusion in his ward that he had made personal inquiry to find out the sentiment of his ward and was ready to vote for the ordinance. Councilman Glass made a vigorous speech against it and Dr. Jackson replied briefly.

The audience was invited by the Mayor to participate in the discussion, but no one responded and the vote was taken. Clark, Ware, Davis and Jackson voted aye and Troyman, Glass and Armstrong nay. The date for the law to take effect was put at May 1.

Consideration of the plumbing ordinance, presented last meeting, was postponed.

The Fire Department Committee was directed to have a wagon shed built in the rear of the fire building.

Mayor Meacham complimented the recent excellent work of the police force and stated that the fines for the first half of March amounted to $325. This was due to a vigorous movement against gaming and Sunday liquor selling. The Sunday violations were largely due to the inability of the police to see inside some of the saloons and he asked the Council to pass an ordinance requiring all screens, curtains and frosted or painted windows to be cleared on Sundays. By unanimous consent, the Council ordered the ordinance prepared for the next meeting.

The resignation of Officer W. H. Nixon on March 8 was reported and an election was held. Joe P. Claxton was elected to fill the vacancy, on the first ballot. He has been serving as a substitute for Officer C. E. Hord since January 3.

The matter of a settlement with the Sewerage Company in regard to the condition the streets were left in was not taken up, but will be considered at the first April meeting.

The semi-annual bill of the Water Company, amounting to $2,295, was ordered paid, and the Corporations Committee was instructed to arrange for a renewal of the contract for water by the next meeting.

The disengagement from soft coal is needless, it is asserted in view of a modern invention which has made bituminous coal absolutely smokeless. As yet there has been no satisfactory furnace invented for household use, but for industrial uses on a large scale, there are smokeless soft coal furnaces made, the prices ranging from a few hundred dollars to $1,500. One firm has sold more than 4,000 smokeless furnaces and is now shipping many orders to Japan. Buyers have decided that the saving in cost of fuel offsets the high first cost of the furnaces. But not only is bituminous coal nominally only half the price of anthracite, but the successful invention provides for the burning of coal with the minimum of waste.

Everyone knows that coal smoke is carbon which has not been consumed; that is, wasted coal which has been set free while the mass is heating. One form of smoke consumer is a mechanical stove, which feeds the coal in slowly at the edge of the fire, forcing whatever smoke rises to pass the length of the fire box before the glowing furnace. The accumulation of the hot air in the stove ensures almost complete combustion. Another system by reversing the draught sends the gaseous smoke down through the fire, the blue flames playing down through the grate instead of up. The fire does not burn down, to naturally the fresh coal goes in on top, but all the gases descend. Below the grate is another grate, to which the smaller pieces of half consumed coal drop. What little gas escapes is burned in the rousing passage between the two white hot grates.

It has been computed that at the present rate of consumption the bituminous coal supply cannot last longer than 80 years. But the supply of bituminous coal is practically unlimited. Ordinarily in New York it is about half the price of hard coal. The United States government, using down draught furnaces of 1,100 horse power in New York city, saves nearly $20,000 by burning soft coal. It has besides 75 percent, less refuse. Used with satisfactory smoke consumers, there is a saving of ten percent, in the coal and from 10 to 15 percent, in fuel economy. Already there has been a great increase in the use of smokeless furnaces, which will probably have a permanent effect on the demand for anthracite. A wide use of the smokeless appliances would doubtless lengthen the life of the hard coal.

Buggy Days

At the Planters

March 22, 23, and 24.

We have one car load of buggies and surreys, that were shipped us through mistake by the factory. These people advise us to close these buggies out at factory cost to build them.

This car load of work will be sold for spot cash, (no trade.) This being an opportunity of a lifetime, we have decided to offer these on the above dates, that our customers may have a chance to get a buggy or driving wagon at factory cost, less the freight. We have five car loads of our regular work; also one car load of high grade buggies, phaetons, stanhopes, surreys, bike wagons, park wagons and top buggies, on which we will make you special prices.

We have no old carried over work to offer. We sold all our last year's purchase. All our work is new and fresh. We are now in better shape to serve the public. We bought in car lots and paid spot cash and obtained the lowest possible prices. Come and see the largest line of vehicles ever shown in Hopkinsville. The Magnitude of the Poultry Industry.

The nineteenth annual report of the Bureau of Animal Industry (1902) presents some interesting facts regarding the magnitude of the poultry industry in the United States. The report considers only poultry and eggs produced on farms and omits the vast quantities produced in villages and cities.

Government statistics are always based upon reports gathered January 1st. The production of eggs upon the farms can be readily approximated, annual production of poultry cannot be estimated for the reason that during the year millions of fowls are hatched and consumed, and never enter into the estimate.

The total number of fowls on farms, as given in the census, was 250,081,593, worth $70,000,000, producing for market in one year poultry worth $136,891,877 and eggs worth $144,286,570—a total value of $281,178,247, or four times the value of the original investment. We have arranged the following table, as taken from the census reports, showing the rank of states in the production of eggs, and the average price per dozen received by the farmers:

The highest average price realized for eggs per dozen omitting Hawaii, was in Nevada, the price there having been 20.8 cents. Montana ranks next with 20.6 cents. Colorado's average is placed at 15 cents per dozen, while our sister state of Utah sold her eggs for 12.5 cents. The lowest price received was in Texas, 7.7 cents per dozen.

Those engaged in the poultry business are often subject to ridicule at the hands of those pursuing a more "dignified" calling, yet by adding together the product of the efforts of those dabbling in this "school boy" pastime, the figures are surprising. During 1899 the egg product alone exceeded in value the combined gold and silver product of the United States during any year since 1850, except for the one year 1900, when the precious metals exceeded the eggs by $9,000,000.

The poultry and eggs together in the year 1900 were worth more than either the gold or silver production of the entire world for any year since the beginning of records, excepting the years 1896 and '99, when the poultry production dropped below that of the gold and silver.

An average refrigerator car holds about 400 cases. It would require a train of cars 888 miles long to carry this vast number of eggs, allowing 42.5 feet for each car.

Iowa is the banner state in the poultry world. In 1879 the production of eggs aggregated 32,253,932 dozen; in 1888, 69,448,339 dozen, and in 1899 the enormous amount of 99,631,220 dozen were produced. This shows that many years ago the farmers and ranchers of Iowa awakened to the importance of the poultry business, and considered poultry products one of the most valuable in connection with farming.

Granting that the average annual consumption of eggs by each individual equals seventeen dozen, Iowa would only need 37,941,501 dozen, a sum of $1,689,110 dozen to be exported. The production of poultry was in the same proportion, the total number of fowls being 20,043,343. The amount needed for home consumption was 8,182,297, leaving 11,876,656 fowls to be exported. TEMPERANCE MEASURE.

Some Features of the County Unit Bill.

All counties, with the exception of those containing cities of the first four classes, must vote as units on local option questions.

Cities of first four classes and the counties outside these cities made separate units.

If a county goes "dry," no precinct in that county can be "wet."

The other hand, if a county votes "wet," any precinct in that county, which previous to the election was "dry," shall remain "dry."

The same rule applies as well to cities of the first four classes.

There are at present 119 counties in the State. Sixty-eight are local option. The temperature element claims that under the bill passed yesterday twenty-seven more will be added to their column, and that they have a great chance to carry other counties.

STOLEN BY GYPSIES.

Woman Finds Her Mother After Thirty-one Years.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., March 14.—Mrs. C. W. Clifton, of Dalesford, W. V. A., and Mrs. J. T. Kimberley, of Dallas, Texas, mother and daughter, after a separation of 31 years, met here to-day. Mrs. Kimberley, the daughter, remembers being stolen from her home in West Virginia by gypsies when 5 years old. She was finally rescued by worthy people in Texas, the gypsies being placated with gold. The mother and daughter located each other last month and met here by appointment. They left immediately for Texas.

Always Keeps Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in His House.

"Would not be without Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is kept on hand continually in our home," says W. W. Kearney, editor of the Independent, Newark, N. J. That is what a family should do. When kept at hand ready for use, a cold may be checked at the outset and cured in much less time than after it has become settled in the system. This remedy is also without a peer for croup in children, and will prevent the attack when the first symptoms appear, such as hoarse or even after the croupy cough appears, which can only be done when the remedy is kept at hand. The Kind You Have Always Bought

THE PERFECT WAY.

Scores of Hopkinsville Peo- ple Have Learned It.

If you suffer from backache, There is only one way to cure it. The perfect way is to cure the kidneys.

A bad back means sick kidneys. Neglect it, urinary troubles flow. Doan's Kidney Pills are made for kidneys only.

They are endorsed by Hopkinsville people.

C. B. Eades, of the firm of Eades & Davis, proprietors of the coal yard on Seventh St. and the L. & N. R. R., and his wife at 402 East 7th St., are users of Doan's Kidney Pills advertised as so highly recommended by persons who used them that I went to Thomas & Trahern's drug store, procured a box and gave them a thorough trial. It had suffered for a long time with a backache, sharp, sharp and acute at times. When I caught cold it always settled in my back and there followed a weakness of the kidneys which was as exasperating especially at night. I tried various remedies, but none of them gave anything like as satisfactory results. I then thought of Doan's Kidney Pills. I am pleased to say they brought me great relief. I have recommended the pills and will continue to do so to my friends and acquaintances."

Often The Kidneys Are Weakened by Over-Work.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood. It need to be considered that only urinary and bladder troubles were to be attributed to the kidneys, but modern science proves that nearly all diseases have their beginning in the kidneys. Disease of these most important organs.

The kidneys filter and purify the blood that is in our work.

Therefore, when your kidneys are weak or in order, you can understand how ill you are if your entire body is affected and how every organ seems to fail to do its duty.

If you are sick or "feel badly," begin taking the great kidney remedy, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root. Because as soon as your kidneys are well they help all the other organs to health. A trial will convince anyone.

If you are sick you can make no mistake in finding a doctor for your kidneys. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, is soon realized. It amply proves that its wonderful cures are of the most distinguishing cases, and is sold on the merits by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. If you are in doubt, you may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when you write. Dr. Kilmer, Binghamton, N. Y. Don't make any mistake, but remember the Name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., every bottle.

Missionary Lecture.

Miss Lydia A. Hays addressed the congregations of the Cumberland and First Presbyterian churches at the latter church Sunday night. Miss Hays is an earnest and practical talker and her account of the ignorance and great need of the gospel by the people of New Mexico and Alaska was highly interesting. She has been in the two fields for several years and is thoroughly acquainted with the customs of the people. A liberal collection was taken up.

Mr. D. W. Kitchen went to Cairo, Ill., Sunday. Mr. Beale Smith's condition is very critical.

BUSINESS CHANGE.

W. H. Martin Acquires the Drug Store of T. D. Armistead.

Mr. W. H. Martin, whose drug store at Crofton was burned some weeks ago, has purchased the stock of drugs of T. D. Armistead in this city and has already taken possession. Mr. Armistead will remain with him for about three weeks, when Mr. Henry Myers, who has been with R. C. Hardwick for several years, will become a prescriptionist in the store. Dr. J. R. Armstrong, who has been in the drug business here for 24 years, began work yesterday for Mr. Hardwick, taking the place vacated by Mr. Myers. The latter left last night for Florida on a visit to Pensacola.

Mr. Martin had for 25 years been in business at Crofton and has a wide acquaintance in other parts of the county. He is a capable, upright and popular business man and will undoubtedly get a large share of the drug trade of the city and county.

NEW VICE-PRESIDENT

Writes His Views on Tobacco Auction Sales.

Rice Depot, Va., March 15.—I have seen a great deal in the past few weeks in regard to public auction sales of tobacco. Feeling that Virginia is interested in this question, I will venture a word of comment.

Our experience of thirty years has taught us that auction sales have been very disastrous to the farmer at large. It is a system that no other class of people would have entered for a moment.

Would any business concern suffer their product to be sold at public auction unless they were bankrupt or going out of business? Why, no, it is not the plan of business men. If we propose to take our places among other classes of people. We should pursue strictly business principles.

We should put a price on our tobacco after counting the cost and adding a reasonable profit and let another purchaser come to our salesroom, knowing they will have to pay our prices and buy what they need. It shows weakness to say that we are not capable of pricing our own product, and do ourselves the great injustice of giving that privilege to some one else.

Hoping that you will give this space in your weekly issue, I am, Yours respectfully.

E. T. BONDURANT.

Rev. E. H. Bull, who has been confined to his room most of the time for two weeks with ulcerated throat, is no better. Dr. Wyatt conducted the services at Mr. Bull's church Sunday night.

AWFUL PSORIASIS

35 YEARS

Terrible Scaly Humor in Patches All Over the Body—Skin Cracked and Bleeding—Itching Unbearable—Cured by CUTICURA Days at Cost of $4.75.

ANOTHER WONDERFUL CURE BY CUTICURA

"I was afflicted with psoriasis for thirty-five years. It was in patches all over my body. I used three cakes of Cuticura Ointment, and two bottles of Cuticura Resolvent. I bathed in the Soap and applied the Ointment once a day, and took the Resolvent as directed. The Soap applied the Resolvent, as it was about five years ago.

The psoriasis first made its appearance in red spots, generally forming a circle, leaving in the center a spot about the size of a silver dollar of sound flesh. The skin around the spot would become thick and would form a heavy dry scale of a white silvery appearance and would gradually drop off. To remove the entire scales by this, or on using a soft toothed comb, would be perfectly effective, and a light discharge of bloody substance would ooze out. That sealy crust would form again in twenty-four hours. It is a very painful and disagreeable body, also on my scalp. If I let the scales remain too long without removing by bath or otherwise, the skin becomes dark and black. I suffered intense itching, worse at nights after getting warm in bed, or blood worms by exercise, when it would be almost unbearable.

To sum it all up, I would not go through such another ordeal of affliction for thirty-five years for the State of Kansas. (Signed) J. C. Colchester, Hillsborough, N. H., April 20, 1887.

THE ATROCITIES COMMITTED IN THE CONGO FREE STATE

This Portion of Darkest Africa Under the Sovereignty of King Leopold—Country Exploited Commercially Rather Than Administered.

An article in the London Graphic says: "The key to the administration of the Congo Free State and gives a definition of the administration of this dark region in darkest Africa. "In a nutshell the Congo administration is this: The farming out of government taxation to commercial monopolies to which the right of their claim is conceded, and the enforcing of an ever increasing tax from the people from which the government itself draws 60 per cent. of the profits. The white agents carrying out this system are permitted by the government to employ large bands of 'levies' or 'separates,' and also arm the 'irregulars.' These companies have also the right to contract de captives, or the capturing and holding of hostages until the delivery of rubber is satisfied. The armed sentries carry out the captures and bring in to the white man the hostages. The raids for these hostages are seldom free from bloodshed and are often accompanied by nameless tortures on the defenseless people."

When we understand that the sentries and their auxiliaries are as degraded and cruel a people as it is possible to find on this earth, we realize something of what it means to put this power into their hands, to put these been given out, tell of most horrible conditions; "though the document is of very limited dimensions, it affords striking confirmation of all that the Congo Free State is said to be. It will no longer be possible to deny the existence of legalized hostage taking; of mutilation by black soldiers; of the ruin of villages and wholesale murders, the only object of which was, and still is, the extorting of large quantities of rubber. The name of course, of the main cause of the slave trade in the Congo. This commodity must be delivered in ever increasing quantities, otherwise there is trouble from Brussels."

When the men at Brussels send notice of dissatisfaction, the white agents in the Congo must put their deputies in jail until they get results. And to get a rubber output satisfactory to the powers that be, the natives have to be terrorized. There are three ways in which this is done; by mowing a native that fails to bring in the required amount; by capturing and keeping hostages; by raiding a village and carrying off the men provided by the white man, the torture accompanying supplied by the savage."

The London Graphic, which we have already quoted, does not, as a rule, go in for sensational illustrations; but the atrocities now going on in the Congo are of such character and so general it is deemed necessary a crusader to call the attention of the civilized world to what the defenseless natives are suffering. That the whole civilized world make a protest the "Bad Old Man" shall have to heed.

In the accompanying illustration we are shown a scene it has been proven beyond doubt is of common occurrence. The white man has come to get his toll. The subject of the toll comes forward with their small baskets, and each basket is carefully weighed. If the scale turn six and three-quarters pounds, the man is lucky, and he is given some trifles—perhaps a bit of salt, a belt, a yard of calico. The unfortunate whose rubber allows him to be held is laid hold on. With all the ringer's force weighed, the short-weight fellow is brought forward. One by one they are flogged and admonished to do better when they bring the next forthcoming toll.

Mutilation is a means employed frequently, as is attested by the number of wretched beings that go about with one foot, one arm, and sometimes the other cut off. As a fact, when the commission of inquiry was on the Congo there was brought forward by relatives of the victims a sorrowful array of cruelly mutilated persons. Here is one case presented to the commission: "Bojili, wife of Lomboto, of Ekerongo, was punished by the sentry Leopold, and after that flogged out of camp and she was further beaten with a gun on her side, which caused an enormous tumor." These details are revolting, but the time has come for them to be considered, time the public realize the full enormity of the cruelties committed in the name of commerce. Let us recall the location of the Congo, in the heart of the sovereign state of King Leopold—whose title reads the opposite of Gladstone's. (But we have read what Mark Twain thinks of Leopold, and after that flaying it would be weak to attempt anything in the way of denunciation.)

How came Leopold to have control of that very considerable region nominally known as the Congo? In 1884 King Leopold, in furtherance of African exploration and colonization, organized, with the cooperation of leading African explorers, and supported by several European governments, the International African Association. The following year Stanley was sent out to the Congo country by the association, and a series of trading posts and telegraph lines were made with the Congo chiefs, and posts established. The International Association of the Congo now took charge of the work, and the several small territories were combined into one state, for which recognition was asked of the civilized governments. This recognition was given, and the state was known as the sovereign state of Leopold. At an international conference on African affairs, 1885, an act was passed concerning the rights of the several nations in the Congo, humane treatment of the natives, the abolition of the slave trade, etc. The state was placed under the personal sovereignty of Leopold (Leopold, by will made known to the world, was King of Belgium). Other matters came away from this region the attention of the several powers. Leopold strengthened the Belgian interests. And the Belgians have stoutly upheld their king in his exploitation of the Congo.

Congo Free State is a rich country, and while it could not be said, with much reason, that it is a credit to the world, it is a credit to the Belgians. They have exploited it as a commercial enterprise. Give, give, give, say the agents of the white man, the "separates" and "irregulars"; and the natives make desperate effort to procure and hand over that which the white man demands. Rubber is by far the most important article of commerce, followed by tin, gold, ivory, and other mineral exports. The general export trade rose in the four years succeeding 1896 from $3,000,000 to nearly $10,000,000. Belgium has about 8 per cent. of the total export commerce.

We are told that since Leopold assumed sovereign power over this territory the slave trade has been largely abolished; that inter-tribal wars and cannibalism, as well as abuses arising from the liquor traffic, have been largely reduced. But the commission appointed to inquire into Congo atrocities, the report of which commissioners has but recently

It is ordained by the Board of Council of the City of Hopkinsville, Kentucky:

That an ordinance relating to stock running at large in the city of Hopkinsville, Ky., same being "Stock Ordinance," adopted and approved by the Board of Council of the City of Hopkinsville on the 22nd day of June, 1905, be, and the same is hereby amended so that the same shall read as follows, when amended:

Sec. 1.—That it shall be unlawful for the owner of any horse, mule, hog, pig, bull, cow, calf or other live stock, to permit same to run at large upon any of the streets, alleys, vacant lots or commons of the City of Hopkinsville at any time, and it shall be unlawful for any such horse, mule, cow, calf, hog, pig, bull or any such cattle or live stock to roam upon any of said streets, alleys or vacant lots or commons of said city at any time. But this section shall not apply in cases where any such animals are being driven through the city, or from one place to another, for the purpose of being sold, or being taken from one part of the city to another part, for the purpose of being slaughtered or to be placed in a pen or other enclosure, nor while being driven to or from home.

PENALTY.

2.—Any person who shall violate the provisions of the first section of this ordinance, shall, upon conviction thereof, before the police court of said city, be punished by a fine of five dollars for every horse, mule or bull so found at large in said city; one dollar for every cow, calf or hog so found at large in said city, and fifty cents for every pig or other animal so found at large within said city, and also the court cost attending said prosecution.

POLICE TO IMPOUND STOCK FOUND RUNNING AT LARGE.

3. It shall be the duty of the Chief of Police and his assistants to take up and impound in a lot to be provided therefor, all horses, mules, bulls, cows, calves or other animals found roaming the streets, alleys or commons of said city in violation of this ordinance, and thereupon serve written or printed notice of such impounding upon the owner or controller of such animal, advising him that [upon the payment of the fees and costs of impounding and caring for such animals, the same will be surrendered to him. If the owner of such animals so impounded be unknown to the Chief of Police, and due inquiry fail to disclose such owner, then it shall be the duty of said Chief of Police to advertise by printed or painted hand-bills, posted at the door of the police court room and in at least four other public places within said city, the fact of the impounding of such animals, giving as accurate description as possible of same, including age, color, earmarks, if any other marks, and warning the owner that unless the expenses and fees for impounding and caring for such animal be paid and the animal reclaimed within five days, proceedings will be taken to sell same for cost and expenses at public auction. The owner or controller of such animal so impounded may reclaim same at any time before sale, as hereinbefore provided by proving same and paying all costs and expenses incurred in taking up and keeping said animal.

PROCEEDINGS TO DECLARE STOCK NUISANCE.

4. If, after the expiration of five days from date of advertising stock, the owner of any impounded animal shall fail to reclaim same or pay the expenses of taking up and caring for same, the city attorney shall proceed by summons in the police court, in
